Trendss Shopping App

I developed a mobile shopping application prototype named Trendss using Proto.io. The prototype focuses on creating a smooth and engaging e-commerce experience by combining both familiar and innovative navigation elements. The design includes three main screens: Login Page, Home Page, and Profile Page.

The objective was to ensure ease of use for first-time users while introducing subtle modern UI interactions to enhance engagement and usability.

Screens Included:

1. Login Page
    - Allows users to enter username and password.
    - Includes “Forgot Password” and “Sign Up” options for account recovery and registration.
    - A bold “Sign In” button for clear call-to-action.
2. Home Page
    - Displays promotional banners (e.g., discount offers).
    - Search bar at the top for quick product discovery.
    - Recommended products section with price and cart icon.
    - Bottom navigation bar for easy movement between screens.
3. Profile Page
    - Displays user information and profile picture.
    - Sections like Orders, Accounts, and Lists for organized access.
    - “Buy Again” and “Your Orders” sections for quick re-purchase.

Familiar Navigation Elements:

These elements help users feel comfortable because they are commonly used in most shopping applications:

- Username and password login fields
- Search bar at the top of the home screen
- Bottom navigation bar (Home, Shop, Wishlist, Cart, Profile)

- Add-to-cart icon on product cards
- Orders and Account management options

These patterns reduce the learning curve and make the app intuitive.

Unfamiliar / Novel Navigation Elements:

To enhance user engagement, the prototype includes modern interaction elements:

- Dynamic promotional banner with visually strong CTA ("Shop Now")
- Personalized sections like "Buy Again" to improve shopping efficiency
- Modern card-style product layout with floating cart button
- Minimalistic purple theme for strong brand identity

These elements aim to create a visually appealing and interactive shopping experience while maintaining usability.
